

| | | |
|---|--|--|
| You work at an animal shelter. A dog that has been hit by a car is brought to the shelter and left. The dog is still alive, but is badly injured. | You work at an animal shelter. A dog that is new to the shelter is full of ticks, fleas, and his fur is badly matted. | You work at an animal shelter. A mother dog and her litter of puppies is brought into the shelter and left. |
| You work at an animal shelter. 4 wild (feral) cats have been brought in to be spayed/neutered. | You work at an animal shelter. The shelter has many bills and employee salaries to pay. | You work at an animal shelter. There are many cages and pens that need to be cleaned at least two times per day. |
| You work at an animal shelter. Many decisions must be made every day to keep the shelter running smoothly. | You work at an animal shelter. The shelter houses approximately 200 dogs and cats that must be fed 2 times per day, and fresh water must always be available to all the animals. | You work at an animal shelter. The shelter receives about 100 telephone calls per day. |
| You work at an animal shelter. Many people are needed to give the animals lots of attention and exercise. | You work at an animal shelter. It is very important to educate the public about the work of the shelter and the needs at the shelter. | You work at an animal shelter. Every day, the bedding that the animals sleep on must be washed. |